

Diploma Results

Diploma courses are graded using the IB scale of 1-7 with 7 being the highest and 4 considered a passing mark. Full Diploma candidates take examinations in six classes, which means they have the potential to earn 42 points in their exam subjects. Up to an additional three 'bonus' points may be awarded based on the combined assessment of the Extended Essay and Theory of Knowledge which brings the overall maximum to 45.

Generally speaking, a Diploma is awarded if the student satisfies all of the Core requirements and earns 24 points in their exam subjects; they must earn a minimum of 12 points in their combined higher-level subjects with no higher level mark falling below a 3. The award of the diploma will only be given if the student attains 28 points should a student do very poorly and attain only a "2" on one of the higher level IB courses

Please see the publication "Diploma Programme Regulations" on the IBO website for the complete details regarding the award of the Diploma.

Results are published annually on July 6th and are available to candidates on-line via an individualized access code. Although it varies from university-to-university, students usually need to score a 5 or above to receive university credit for a IB DP course. Universities require that the official results be sent directly to them from the IBO offices in Geneva. The original hard copies of IB Diplomas and Certificates are mailed to ISM in early September and are held for pick-up in the DP office.

Notes: There are many conditions to the award of the Diploma; for details please see "Diploma Programme Regulations" which are posted to the school website.

The IBO maintains a searchable database of university recognition policy at:
